

Receiving a safety performance award on behalf of Graham County Electric Cooperative is CEO/General Manager Kirk Gray. During the 2017 summer meeting of Grand Canyon State Electric Cooperative Association (GCSECA), an Injury & Illness Incidence Award was presented to GCEC for their safety performance DART rate of less than 1.6% in 2016. DART stands for “Days Away, Restricted and Transferred”. This award is presented to those Arizona utilities that participate in the GCSECA Loss Control Program and have an outstanding safety performance. GCEC and GCU consider safety to be a key value at the coop. “The coop understands that members need our services, but our main concern is for the safety of our people, who are our greatest asset, and the public,” Brent Wiltbank, Safety and Loss Control Coordinator for GCEC/GCU stated. “At the end of the day, we want our people to return home to their families the same way they came to work.”
